

The Truth about the Value of the Diploma of the International Christian School

Disclaimer

This chart is based upon the experiences of our staff, faculty, and graduates and is believed to be accurate as of its publication date—as well as for many years past. (The TASC replaced the GED in New York State in 2014 and fulfills the same role.) However, colleges, universities, and the U.S. military are free to establish their own admissions criteria, which may change at any time. Therefore, past performance is no guarantee of future results: Institutions that currently recognize our diploma may choose to refuse it in the future; and institutions that presently choose not to recognize our diploma may begin to recognize it at any time.
